İSTANBUL - TURKEY
Seventh International Congress on Advances in Civil Engineering (ACE 2006) will be held in Istanbul, Turkey between October 11 and 13, 2006. The congress is organized by Yıldız Technical University (ACE 2006 host), Boğaziçi University, Eastern Mediterranean University, Istanbul Technical University and Middle East Technical University every two years to enable dialogue among the leading researchers and practitioners from a broad range of disciplines. The aim of this congress is to discuss topics ranging from technical engineering concepts to social and economic issues, and to exchange experience and knowledge among people from industry and academia around the world.

Authors are invited to submit their abstract(s) via the web form (at www.ace2006.yildiz.edu.tr or to ace2006@yildiz.edu.tr by no later than December 1, 2005. Abstracts should not exceed 400 words.

In addition to academic papers, senior students are encouraged to exhibit their graduation projects in the “Student Poster Session”. The best three projects will be honored. Due date for submission of the Student Projects is August 1, 2006. Please visit the Congress web site for project submission.
